

The Union League Legacy Foundation

Tours of the League House

The Union League Legacy Foundation is pleased to provide tours of the League House to members, their guests and the general public. Tours are conducted by the League historian, other Legacy Foundation staff, or trained docents.

Tours are available for the entire League or of The Heritage Center. Tours of The Heritage Center provide a brief history of the Union League and cover the current exhibit on display in the Heuer Room. Tours of the League House provide a brief history of the League, and its important role in the history of Philadelphia, the region and country. Tours are a great way to learn more about this unique Philadelphia institution, and see beautiful art and artifacts.

- Tours can be tailored to specific interests – from art, architecture, history or more. If you have a particular interest, please let us know.
- Tours can be adjusted from 20 minutes to 1 hour
 - A 20-minute tour would include limited view of the building and limit information provided.
 - A tour of the League House is typically 45 minutes to an hour.
- Tours must be scheduled in advance and are based on docent/staff availability.
- The Union League dress code is enforced for all tours outside of The Heritage Center.
