

The Union League Legacy Foundation Programming

The Legacy Foundation inspires and educates League members, students, and the greater community to be engaged and responsible citizens, guided by the United States Constitution and the history and values of the Union League.

The Legacy Foundation presents mission based programs such as exhibits, tours, student programs, scholarships and speaker/lecture programs.

Currently, there are three unique speaker/lecture programs:

Civil War Round Table:

Understanding the war that created a “New Birth of Freedom”

Programs (primarily lectures) about the American Civil War. This includes the political social and military aspects of the war, with a focus on Philadelphia and the Union League’s important role in the war.

The Jack M. Templeton Liberty Series:

Cultivating an understanding of the principals of Liberty

These engaging programs will focus on the concepts of liberty, freedom and free enterprise. Topics include historical and philosophical, as well as other areas essential to liberty such as the rule of law and economics.

*Named in 2017 after Jack M. Templeton, to honor his legacy and his love of continuing the discussion about these important concepts.

Public Affairs:

An informed citizenry is essential to our federal democracy

Provides programs that focus on current policy and politics. Typically lecture formats, these programs have a broad breadth and depth and can include domestic and international topics and speakers.
